Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

St Paul's

Christmas Eve - 7pm
Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku) Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon	St Paul's Christmas Eve - 7pm Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

St Paul's

Christmas Eve - 7pm
Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

St Peter's Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku) Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon	St Paul's Christmas Eve - 7pm Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am
---	--

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

Canon Liam Stevenson P.P.
Fr Colum Wright C.C.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

St Paul's

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

St Paul's

Christmas Eve - 7pm
Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku) Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon	St Paul's Christmas Eve - 7pm Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

St Paul's

Christmas Eve - 7pm
Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

St Paul's

Christmas Eve - 7pm
Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

St Paul's

Christmas Eve - 7pm
Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

St Paul's

Christmas Eve - 7pm
Christmas Day – 9am & 10.30am

Happy Christmas to one and all. God Bless

It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.

With social distancing in place there is just no way that we could accommodate such numbers. In fact, we could safely only accommodate a small percentage of that number. Consequently, the Vigil Masses and the Christmas Day Masses this year will unfortunately have no parishioners present in person. The Masses will be transmitted via the webcam and the parish radio. Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Our parishioners are now well used to our Masses being transmitted through these media. This happened during the first lockdown back in the Spring and early Summer. It even happened on the last two Sundays – the first & second Sundays of Advent. Our Novenas on Monday evenings in St Paul's, concluding on the 30th November and Tuesday evenings concluding on the 1st December in St Peter's, also went out virtually. This is far from ideal given that receiving Holy Communion at Mass is accepting the Body of Christ sacramentally. Sadly, this just is not possible in Lurgan on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day this year. Of course, people may come to Mass (numbers permitting) on the 24th morning, Christmas Eve, the 26th morning and the evening of the 26th and the morning of the 27th, the Feast Day of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary & Joseph and all successive days. Both St Peter's & St Paul's Churches will remain open on Christmas Day from 1.00-6.00pm for private prayer. These issues have been discussed with both Parish Pastoral Councils and they are in total agreement.

Another innovation this year, is that the crib will be downscaled and placed in front of the altar so it will be visible on the webcam. We ask parents/guardians and wider family circles to please ensure their homes are prepared for the Christmas Masses and their families are gathered around the tablet/computer/television. It is a lovely thought that hundreds of homes in our parish will be gathered in prayer with the priests and deacon in both churches. Pope Paul VI back in the sixties and seventies often talked about the domestic church. We are proud to think that all domestic churches in Lurgan will be gathered together in prayer as we once again celebrate the momentous event of God's only Son being born from the womb of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All Masses will be broadcast via the webcam www.lurganparish.com and parish radio at the following times:

St Peter's

Christmas Eve – 6pm, 9pm (po polsku)
Christmas Day – 8am & 10am (po polsku) & 12 noon

CHRISTMAS 2020 IN THE LURGAN PARISHES

Sadly, this Christmas will be very different from all the other Christmases that we have experienced and celebrated. Covid has cast a long shadow over all our activities since just before St Patrick's Day back in March. Just as our secular activities have been curtailed so also have our religious practices. Last Christmas we remember that about 2,500 parishioners came out to Mass on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day in St Peter's and 2,000 parishioners in St Paul's.
