HOME
No one leaves home unless home is the mouth of the shark.
You only run for the border when you see the whole city running as well,
Your neighbours running faster than you.

You have to understand, that no one puts their children in a boat, unless the water is safer than the land.
No one burns their hands under trains, beneath carriages
No one spends days and nights in the stomach of a truck, feeding on newspaper, unless the miles travelled mean something more than journey.

No one crawls under fences, no one wants to be beaten and pitied.
I don't know what I've become but I know that anywhere is safer than home.
By Warsan Shire
