WHAT IS A PARISH MISSION???
The first parish missions were preached about 400 years ago by St Vincent de Paul and a century later by the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer, known as the Redemptorists, founded by St Alphonsus Liguori in 1732. It was inspired by the idea that every so often people need the opportunity to set aside a special time to really nourish their faith apart from the regular Sunday Mass. A central focus was to bring people together, singing, preaching and being inspired and challenged by God's word.
They say the past can be a very different country. Some parishioners may remember many years ago the preaching of 'fire and brimstone'. Thankfully those days are long gone. Parish missions have developed and grown to be wonderful occasions to personally nourish one's faith and to be challenged to grow as a community of faith and service to one another.
As we will welcome the Redemptorist team in a few weeks, we will experience for ourselves just how the parish mission has become a refreshing experience to deepen our faith and our values. A welcome development is the presence of lay people on many of the Redemptorist missions, including our own mission beginning on Sunday afternoon 8 March at 3:00pm in both churches.
