PARKING
During Tuesday night's Mass for the deceased parishioners, the parking on North Street was chaotic. Careless parking on both sides of the street meant an ambulance had trouble getting to an emergency and a fire engine was only able to pass with enormous difficulty. Please have respect for passing traffic and especially for emergency vehicles.
Free car parking is always available in North Street car park in the evenings and at weekends.

SIGN OF PEACE
Parishioners have been talking to me about the 'sign of peace'. If someone does not wish to offer or receive a handshake with another parishioner, then an acceptable alternative is to bow to acknowledge the presence of your neighbour. Please accept this gesture of peace. In the season of colds and flu we must all be mindful of what we might pass on.
Canon Liam Stevenson

Aifreann na Marbh

RED WEDNESDAY: 27 NOVEMBER
In support of Christians worldwide who are being persecuted for their beliefs, Aid to the Church in Need asks you to wear something red on Wednesday and to pray. Masses in the parish on Wednesday will be for all Christians who suffer for faith.
God our Father, have mercy on your faithful servants, our Christian sisters and brothers. Young and old alike, they are called to witness to Christ. May they be strengthened during times of turmoil as they seek to follow your beloved Son in the face of fierce opposition. With Francis, our Pope, we pray that Christians around the world may be allowed to live their faith in full freedom. Embolden them to act as instruments of peace and reconciliation, united with all the citizens of their countries. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.
